

At the Zoo

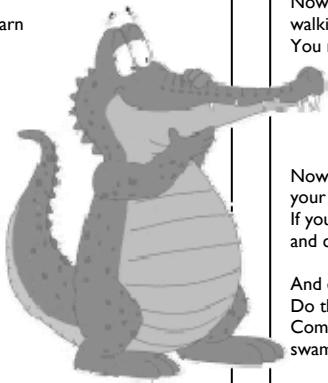

If you're curious about animals
There's a place that you can go
You can find out anything that you want to know
at the zoo!

You can see the zebras with their black and white stripes
Giraffes are so tall looks like their heads are in the sky
The kangaroos all hop around you can find out why
At the zoo.

Because there's so much you can learn
And there's so much to discover.
Cause learning's fun yes it's true
So let's go learn something at the zoo!

See the monkeys climbing the trees
And the crocodiles and alligators swimming.
There's a tiger with her cubs and a lion roaring
At the zoo.

There's so much you can learn
And there's so much to discover.
Cause learning's
Fun, yes it's true!
So let's go learn something at the zoo!

Swamp Stomp Boogie

To make a crocodile snout you put your arms straight out Put your hands together, point and now

You're doing the swamp stomp boogie
You're doing the swamp stomp boogie!
Come on everybody, do the swamp stomp boogie with me.

Now put your hands together and your arms straight out Bend your elbows so they're round like an alligator snout

And do the swamp stomp boogie
Do the swamp stomp boogie!
Come on everybody, do the swamp stomp boogie with me.

Now imagine you're wet walking in the ooshy gooshy swamp
You move so slow when you walk! Walk slow

And do the swamp stomp boogie
Swamp stomp boogie!
Sing it crocodile!

Now everyone shake your tail around
If you want to be like alligators and crocodiles

And do the swamp stomp boogie
Do the swamp stomp boogie!
Come on everybody, do the
swamp stomp boogie with me.

Everyone is a star

Honeybee, she got upset
Cause spider had eight legs and she only had six
And spider got kind of sad Cause he didn't have the wings that honeybee has

But don't let it shake your confidence
We are all different

Honeybee, honeybee you make honey so sweet
And spider, spider what a web you weave.
See, everyone is a star
You're perfect just the way you are!

Spider he got upset Cause like honeybee he wanted to live in a nest
And honeybee got kind of sad
Cause like spider she wanted to live in a web.

But don't let it shake your confidence
We are all different

Honeybee, honeybee you make honey so sweet
And spider, spider what a web you weave.
See, everyone is a star
You're perfect just the way you are!

And both honeybee and spider agreed
That they were happy to be unique!

Honeybee, honeybee you make honey so
sweet
And spider, spider what a web you weave.
See, everyone is a star
You're perfect just the way you are!

Reaching For the Sky

Sometimes I look up at the sky
And watch as the birds go flying by
I listen to them sing their beautiful songs
I smile and do my best to sing along
Then I start to wonder how birds take flight
And how, in my own way, I can fly

Cause birds have feathers and birds have wings
They have the right body type
Because of these things they can soar through the sky.
But when I close my eyes and use my imagination, in my mind I can fly.
My feet are on the ground but I'm always reaching for the sky.

Sometimes I look up at the sky
And watch as a plane goes flying by It's bigger than a bird but still can fly
All the scientists say it's by design
They say they study birds so they can learn How to make planes fly

Cause planes are made with metal, planes are made with wings
They have the right design
Because of these things they can soar through the sky.
But when I close my eyes and use my imagination, in my mind I can fly.
My feet are on the ground but I'm always reaching for
the sky.

I can do anything when I try Yeah, my feet are on the ground but I'm always reaching for the sky!

The Tiger Caper

There was a very daring break-in at the zoo last night
Somebody snuck in and stole the tiger's stripes
This mysterious crime must be solved right away
This looks like a job for the Superhero Primates!

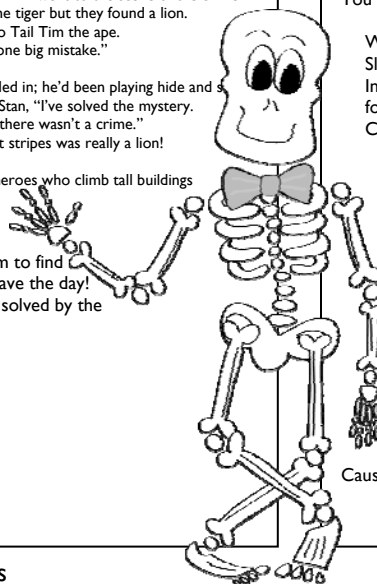

Swingin' Stan the monkey and No Tail Tim the ape
Our superhero primates, what a pair they make.
With their ability to make friends and use their hands
The Tiger stripe thief doesn't stand a chance!

They're not the kind of heroes who climb tall buildings and wear capas.
But they're so smart and curious
That they always seem to find a way, find a way to save the day!

Swingin' Stan and No Tail Tim went to the scene of the crime
Where they didn't find the tiger but they found a lion.
"I have a theory," said No Tail Tim the ape.
"I think this all might be one big mistake."

Right then the tiger strolled in; he'd been playing hide and s
"That's it!" said Swingin' Stan, "I've solved the mystery.
There wasn't a break-in, there wasn't a crime."
Because the tiger without stripes was really a lion!

They're not the kind of heroes who climb tall buildings and wear capas
But they're so smart and curious
That they always seem to find a way, find a way to save the day!
That's another crime solved by the Superhero Primates!

Waddle

I'm black and white and live by the South Pole
In a place with a funny name where it's so cold
You can find this place at the bottom of the globe
I think you need one more hint so here you go!

I waddle, I waddle, I waddle around Slide on my belly on the slippery ground
In a place called Antarctica, that's where I'm found Cause I'm a penguin and I waddle around.

That's not all, I also can swim
I share the water with the whales, seals and squid
But there's a difference between me and them
You see, I am the only one who lives on the land!

Waddle, waddle, waddle around
Slide on your belly on the slippery ground In a place called Antarctica, that's where you're found
Cause you're a penguin and you waddle around!

You won't ever see me up in the sky
Cause I'm one of the few birds that cannot fly!
Instead,

We waddle, we waddle, we waddle around
We slide on our bellies on the slippery ground
In a place called Antarctica, that's where we're
found
Cause we're penguins!

We waddle, we waddle, we waddle around
We slide on our bellies on the slippery ground
In a place called Antarctica, that's where we're
found
Cause we're penguins and we waddle around!

Welcome Home, Captain!

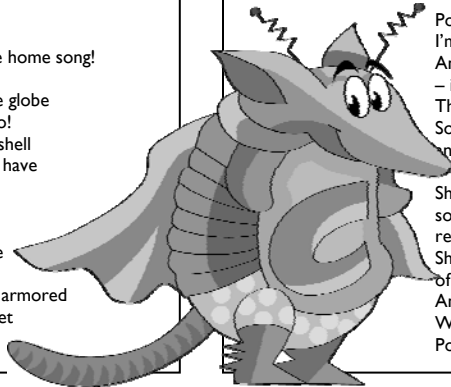

Dancing with the butterflies and buzzing with the bees Climbing with the squirrels way up high in the trees He loves adventure but there's no place he'd rather be than his warm burrow underground and with his friends and family

Come on everyone, let's learn this song
To welcome Captain Curiosity home!
Sing hey, hey, hey, welcome home
Captain Curiosity from around the globe
The world's most famous armadillo!
And we love your funny armored shell
Wow, Captain Curiosity I bet you have some stories to tell!

In the jungle with the pandas, hanging upside-down with the bats
In the ocean with the glow fish, crawling on the beach with the crabs
He loves to meet new friends and travel the globe
But not a day goes by that he doesn't miss his friends at home

Come on everybody, sing along
To the Captain Curiosity welcome home song!
Sing hey, hey, hey, welcome home
Captain Curiosity from around the globe
The world's most famous armadillo!
And we love your funny armored shell
Wow, Captain Curiosity I bet you have some stories to tell!

Sing hey, hey, hey, welcome home Captain Curiosity from around the globe. The world's most famous armadillo! And we love your funny armored Shell. Wow, Captain Curiosity, I bet you have some stories to tell!
Welcome home!

Pogo the Panda

You will never believe what happened today
A funny dressed panda bear zipped by on roller skates
She had big black eyes and a white fuzzy face
And a puffy round belly that gave her away

She wore a polka dot hat, socks that don't match and a red cape!
She stopped and went into the Bamboo cafe
And that's where she stayed
The panda bear on her roller skates.

I wanted to meet her and went to find out her name
"I'm Pogo the Panda!" She happily explained
"Can I please have twenty plates of your best bamboo?"
She rubbed her puffy belly and started to chew.

She wore a polka dot hat, socks that don't match and a red cape!
We were having so much fun at the Bamboo cafe
So that's where we stayed, me and Pogo on her roller skates.

Pogo told me, "China's where I'm from
And check out my wrist bone
- it acts like a thumb!"
Then it started to get late
So off she went with a smile and a wave.

She wore a polka dot hat, socks that don't match and a
red cape!
She rolled right out the door of the Bamboo cafe
And that was my day
With Pogo the panda bear,
Pogo on her roller skates!

The Waiting Room

Today I woke with a scratchy throat
So I got dressed and put on my coat
And off to the doctor I thought went I was amazed when I walked in

I saw a hamster with horns and pig with wings
A pink bluebird that couldn't sing
There was a monkey with feathers wearing high top shoes
All waiting in the waiting room

I shook my head and rubbed my eyes
Was everyone here wearing a disguise?
Everyone knows that a pig can't fly!
I laughed as more critters walked by

I saw a red and yellow zebra that had spots
And a lion who said "ribbit" and loved to hop
There was a green elephant with a raccoon face
I was not in the right place Cause people go to doctors, but these animals need a veterinarian!

Everyone gathered round and before long
We started making up our own song
The next thing we knew we were singing
And dancin' along..

Hey Piggy: What do you call an animal doctor?
Veterinarian!
Bluebird: What do you call an animal doctor?
Veterinarian!
Hamster: What do you call an animal doctor?
Veterinarian!
Everybody: What do you call an animal doctor?
Veterinarian!
People go to doctors, but animals go to veterinarians.

Black & White

What do an orca and skunk have in common?
One swims with flippers, one runs with paws
One has a blowhole, one has a snout
One is big, and the other is small
One is known for being downright smelly!

Oh tell me, what can it be?
Oh tell me now, what can it be?
Can you make a guess? What can it be?
Because all I can see is biodiversity.

What do a zebra and dalmation have in common?
One lives in the wild, one lives at home
One has stripes and one has lots of spots
One eats grass, one chews a bone
One is known for barking in the yard.

Oh tell me, what can it be?
Oh tell me now, what can it be?
Can you make a guess? What can it be?
Because all I can see is biodiversity.

Stripes or spots, flippers or paws, grass or bones, swim or crawl, ocean or land, big or small
What does it all mean?

Oh!!! They're all black and white.
Hey now I see! Black and white
A Zebra is black and white
And orcas are black and white Dalmations are black and white
And skunks are black and white
White tigers are black and white
And pandas are black and white
And penguins are black and white . . .

Bats in the Cave

Mr. Bones and I went exploring today
I knew where we were going so I led the way
"We're here! Look there's the mountain, and guess what I see?
A cave right in front of me."

Mr. Bones forgot his flashlight but I had mine
We needed one cause caves are dark inside
I tiptoed in with my flashlight when what did I see?
A sea of bats right above me. Oh what a sight to see!

They were hanging upside down
With their wings tucked in sleeping safe and sound
Mr. Bones and I learned something today
That there're bats in the, bats in the, bats,
There're bats in the cave

On our way home we wondered why
The bats were all sleeping cause it wasn't nighttime
Mr. Bones got excited, he had a hunch
So we started to run

To the library and found a bat book under "b"
Mr. Bones studied the pages, I said, "what do you see?"
"Ohhh!" "What Mr. Bones?"
"MMMM, I see!" "See what Mr. Bones?"
"They're nocturnal!" "Which is why They don't sleep at night. They sleep in the daytime!"

That's why they were hanging upside down
With their wings tucked in sleeping safe and sound
Mr. Bones and I learned something today
That there're bats in the, bats in the, bats
There're bats in the cave.

Goodnight Shadows

Before nighttime comes,
Let's watch the sun go down
Then watch as our shadows
Grow bigger on the ground
And guess the animals
By the shape of their shadows.

See there, that's a giraffe,
Because the shadow is so tall
And look there's a mouse,
See how the shadow is so small?
And if the clouds hide the sun,
There will be no shadows at all

Now it's time to wave goodbye
And say goodnight to all our friends
And their shadows.

Now it's time to wave goodbye
And say goodnight to all our friends
And their shadows.

Goodnight
everybody!
